

ARE YOU READY to tackle tax compliance in a VUCA environment?

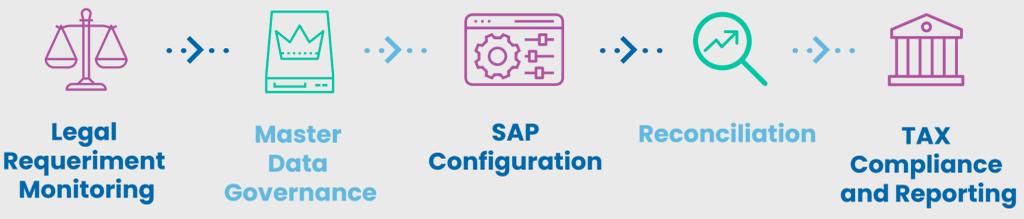

VUCA

« Tax administrations are going digital full steam ahead and require more granular information along with increasing frequency. Are you ready for the next wave of VAT compliance in the digital era? »

How to stay compliant in end-to-end tax data process?

« Numerous tax compliances have been launching with short notice time frames and lack of standardization among countries. Lots of room for error from master data, configuration and transaction. Time consuming to address errors and carry out reconciliation. »

« Based on survey from EY, multinational companies with global headquarters in countries with digital tax administration are less 31% confident in their monitoring of legal requirements. 73% plan to increase tax headcount with people with data and tech management skills. When considering the abilities of existing staff, more than 60% of companies need more skills with tools their company already licenses. »

It's time to reimagine your Business 2 Government team

« Communications issues during tax compliance projects are common, because tax compliance projects involve so many stakeholders. It's difficult for IT or SAP consultants to understand legal or tax terminology. Vice versa, tax experts may not understand SAP language or technical jargon. It's a classic problem and leads to frequent misinterpretation, especially when dealing with tax and regulatory information. That's why 'T-shaped' skills are essential for compliance projects today.
